

Marcia Rainville

My life before Christ...

I grew up going to church intermittently with my mother and my grandmother, who always had a strong faith. I would go to church with her when I was visiting. But I have a cousin, Laura, who has tried to lead me to the Lord like no one ever has. She persisted and never gave up on me, and for that I am forever grateful. I have always believed in God but never really understood that He is the only One that controls my life.

How I realized I needed Christ and accepted Him as my Savior...

I reached a point in my life three years ago that my nights were long and sleepless, and I felt helpless. I knew that I could not continue day to day lying to myself and others that everything was great. I said to Tony (my husband), "We need to go to church." That day, September 5, 2021, I accepted Jesus Christ as my Savior.

My life since receiving Christ...

I realize that I do not have control of my life. I pray regularly and give my worries to the Lord. I am sleeping better and have a peace about me that I have never experienced. I can truly say that I feel blessed beyond words and the more I learn about Jesus, my desire is to be more like Him.