My life before Christ...

I grew up with my mom always taking us to church. I kind of didn't understand the meaning of it and I would just go because my family did. I was young at the time and felt, "what is this?" I would sometimes pray each night and thank God for the stuff I had, but never really knew the meaning except Jesus died on the cross for my sins.

How I realized I needed Christ and accepted Him as my Savior...

As we started getting more and more busy and there were excuses why we wouldn't go to church, God and I had drifted. I thought about it for a while and I wanted to start getting to know God more. I would do things my own way. I needed someone to guide me along in my life. Now I love my mom, don't get me wrong. She is always there for me, but something was calling me, like God was speaking to me. I wanted to follow God's path for my life and start new because I was struggling on my own. I accepted Christ about a year and a half ago.

My life since receiving Christ...

My life since I have accepted Christ has changed everything, and I felt like a new journey was just beginning. My life since that day has been better than it has, and the struggles I have been through, God has helped me through them. I feel like I am a stronger person as I continue to walk with God, and I have more hope and faith in God's plan for me and to share the Gospel with others.
